PRACTICE DESCRIPTION

Suzan E. Farid is a founding Partner of Rizkana & Partners. Suzan's fields of practice are corporate, employment and commercial law and mergers and acquisitions. Prior to joining Rizkana & Partners, Suzan was a local Partner of an international law firm. In her 19 years of practice, Suzan has assisted the world's leading international companies on corporate matters such as incorporation of local entities, corporate advice (including capitalization, corporate restructuring and corporate reporting requirements), assisting with corporate formalities and corporate secretarial functions, advising on liquidation procedures and entity closures.

Suzan's commercial law practice covers a wide array of matters including advising international clients in connection with commercial distribution agreements, commercial agency agreements, manufacturing, sale and supply agreements, licensing agreements, technical assistance agreements, supplier facilities agreements and service agreements, including drafting, reviewing and negotiation of such agreements. She has also extensively advised clients on miscellaneous commercial matters such as assignments of rights, pledges over assets, transfer of technology, retention of title and bankruptcy as per the provisions of the Egyptian Civil and Commercial Codes. She has advised and assisted clients in respect of tenders to Egyptian governmental authorities, including the Ministry of Defense, the Ministry of Health and the Ministry of Education. In her work in mergers and acquisitions, Suzan has advised leading international clients in connection with acquisitions, joint ventures, mergers, asset sales, and IPOs, including conducting legal due diligence, negotiating and drafting transaction documents.

With a heavy practice focus on employment, Suzan has advised numerous multinational leading employers in connection with hiring of employees, including drafting of employment contracts and advising on requirements for the hiring of foreign nationals, dismissal of employees (including collective redundancy) and negotiating and concluding amicable settlement of employment terminations and disputes including all required documentation and filings. She has also been involved in advising in connection with employee strikes and work stoppages, social insurance and salary tax requirements and related matters, employee stock option and stock incentive plans, employee data privacy issues and data transfer regulations and employment-related litigation and dispute resolution. Other fields of law in which Suzan works include capital markets and securities, telecommunications and IT, intellectual property, real estate, NGO Registration, hotels and tourism, petroleum and mining.

Suzan graduated from the University of Tennessee College of Law, Knoxville, Tennessee in May 1996. She was admitted to the Tennessee Bar in 1996 and the Egyptian Bar in 1999.
